MILLWORKS BY DESIGN

Dan Parish and Zac Eglit, founders of Millworks By Design, recognize the power of an organized labor force. With a large team of highly trained carpenters and installers, led by skilled foremen and project managers, Millworks By Design has the leadership and logistical capabilities for projects of any size. While the firm specializes in monumental millwork installation and custom finish carpentry, the success of Millworks By Design lies within its focus on exceptional customer service, dependable crews, knowledgeable management and fine craftsmanship. The firm’s unique ability to provide the best field based installation crews—backed by a highly organized support staff of accountants, estimators and project managers—has placed Millworks By Design in a class of its own. Integral to the company is leadership training and education. CEO Dan Parish has heavily invested his time and resources into results-driven leadership methodologies, and as a result, Millworks By Design attracts and retains the most proficient project managers and foremen in the industry. Based in Agoura Hills, with projects throughout Southern California’s most prestigious neighborhoods, and expanding into San Francisco, many residential contractors, designers, architects and distributors have benefited from Millworks By Design’s experience and expertise in the coordination and installation of fine woodwork.

“Each day, we judge the success of our work as the combination of total customer satisfaction and our own sense of pride.”

Q+A

What are the key influences in your work today?

Our work blends logistics and craftsmanship, so we look to architecture’s best work for detail execution, while looking to other well-run firms as we build our management systems.

How would you define a successful project?

Upon completion of a project, the client is satisfied with the balance of cost-to-value received, and our team is proud of what we have accomplished.

How do you think your clients would characterize you?

Our team is young and unique in how we approach the millwork installation business. We want our clients to think of us as absolutely reliable and in tune with our clients’ needs.
